64TH ANNUAL ARIZONA TREASURE HUNT

Thank you for participating in the 64th annual edition of the Treasure Hunt in the Valley of the Sun. The committee sincerely hopes you enjoyed “When I’m 64.”

Each year, the top three amateur status teams are recognized at the post-hunt banquet. In addition, some other teams’ performances, including professional status teams and rookie teams may be recognized.

While the annual prizes have had little monetary value, competition for first place remains spirited with red Wizard hats being every Wizard’s most prized possession. In addition, each first-place winner earns the fleeting privilege and immense responsibility of serving a three-year term on the Treasure Hunt Committee.

TH Car Show

For this Living Visual, some classic cars are parked next to each other, with the sign shown. Hunters will be invited to inspect the cars, but as they approach the Ford Galaxie 500, several Wizards, posing as “Security,” will loudly prevent them from getting too near.

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue B, open emergency envelope 7 , which will direct you to Clue A.

This is emergency solution 7 , which will lead you to Clue B.

Boy, worst car show ever! Aren't you supposed to be able to, you know, check out ALL the cars without some “Security” jerks hassling you? It's like they're guards or something. Well, at least it's just that one car they care about, a Ford Galaxie 500. You might even say that they're Guardians of the Galaxie (or Galaxy). Hey, wasn't that a movie this summer? Oh yeah, it sure was. Go to circle at the intersection of Pratt Place and Diesel Drive.

Travel 300 feet and park on the East side of the street (park just South of the No parking sign). The clue-site will be 220 feet East of the road adjacent to the ball field underneath the large Mesquite tree.

This is emergency solution 15, which will lead you to Clue C.

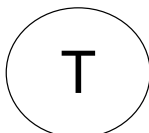

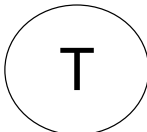

Obviously this cryptogram is too short to solve by itself. A wise Hunter would notice the cryptogram on the HWOW which solves to:

THE ONLY THING THAT IS CONSTANT IS CHANGE. - HERACLITUS

That substitution code is the same as the one used here, which will allow you to easily change the letters of this clue to read:

GO TO THAT WHICH REMAINS UNCHANGED

Many things remain unchanged, but the thing to notice is that only the letter T remains unchanged from the ciphertext to plaintext, since the T represents itself. Thus, you should go to is located in Map Grid [H, 13]. From the intersection of Cave Creek Road and Deer Valley Road, proceed East on Deer Valley Road for 1.1 mile to 32nd Street. Turn left and proceed North on 32nd Street for 0.40 miles to the end of the pavement and park. Walk 420 feet North on the dirt road. The clue site will be on your left (West) 30 feet from the path on the chain link fence.

If you are unable to locate Clue C, open emergency envelope 23, which will direct you to Clue D.

This is Clue C. Solving this clue will lead you to Clue D.

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue D, open emergency envelope 23, which will direct you to Clue D.

This is emergency solution 23, which will lead you to Clue D.

Worldly Hunters would recognize these flags as the flags of the Netherlands, France, Croatia, Columbia and Russia. This should remind Hunters of the HWOW, “Which group is which?” and the flag-covered soccer ball that suggested you better know the different matchups of the group round in the World Cup. Matching each country with the group they were assigned spells out: B-E-A-C-H is located in Map Grid [K, 14]. From the intersection Deer Valley Road and Tatum Blvd, proceed South 0.8 miles to East Mayo Boulevard. Turn left and proceed East 0.8 miles on Mayo Boulevard. On the North side of the road is a large APS power substation. The clue-site is 60 feet Northeast from the Northeast corner of the rear wall of the APS substation in between three large mesquite trees.

So head on over to:

If you are unable to locate Clue D , open emergency envelope 18 , which will direct you to Clue E.

This is Clue D. Solving this clue will lead you to Clue E.

Hunters will find a large box and associated apparatuses consisting of:

- door handle on a door slightly larger than a bowling ball
- 5 foot vertical high pvc pipe
- 10' long horizontal pvc pipe

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue E, open emergency envelope 18, which will direct you to Clue E.

This is emergency solution 18, which will lead you to Clue E.

What an interesting collection of items. Time to dust off the fishing pole, button magnet, ten foot pole, bowling ball and black light! At the bottom of the vertical pvc pipe are keys that can be removed by attaching a small magnet to the Brown Bag metal swivel and attaching the metal piece to the swivel on your fishing pole and lowering the magnet into the pipe with the fishing pole. You will retrieve a key which unlocks the door handle. Inside the door is an obvious place to put a bowling ball. However, the bowling ball just sits there until a 10' pole is inserted into the horizontal pvc pipe to release the bowling ball down the ramp. When the bowling ball rolls down the ramp, a flag is raised. At first glance, Hunters see a few Beatles related images, but nothing with a direct tie to the map. When Hunters remember to use the last item indicated on the HWOW, they will shine their black lights on the raised flag to find a picture of the Beatles drum. So clamor on over to:

Most Hunters will recognize that this is a list of elements. Checking your periodic table (that the HWOW recommended you bring), you'll see that the symbols for these elements are W, H, O, W, As, He, I, Se, N, Be, and Rg, and when combined becomes "Who Was Heisenberg." Heisenberg was the clandestine alias of the fictional main character Walter White of the award winning AMC series Breaking Bad. Walter White was also known as WW, and since W is the periodic symbol for Tungsten, use whatever "Meth"od you can to get yourself over to:

Turn left on Deer Valley road and proceed west for 700 feet and park on the south side of the road. The clue-site is 680 feet south of Deer Valley Road located 40 feet from the Southeast corner of the power station beside a large mesquite tree.

This is Clue F. Solving this clue will lead you to Clue G.

Hunters will come to a table with Volkswagen Beetles crossing a road reminiscent of the cover of the final Beatles album, Abbey Road. A closer look will reveal that the white bug (which was missing in the HWOW) is missing the first two letters of its license plate.

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue G, open emergency envelope 12, which will direct you to Clue G.

This is emergency solution 12, which will lead you to Clue G.

From the HWOW, Hunters should remember seeing the famous Beatles' album cover for Abbey Road, minus the white Volkswagen bug in the background. According to lore (aka "Google"), the license plate of the original VW bug was repeatedly stolen, and conspiracy theorists claimed the registration LMW 28IF was code for one of the "Paul is dead" messages. The white beetle at the clue site is missing the first two letters of its notorious license plate. Those '60s conspiracy theorists claimed that the "LMW" stood for "Linda McCartney weeps," but you don't need to cry for Paul (or John, George, or Ringo). Just drive your car, Baby, on over to:

These Angry Birds are working on balancing out their destructiveness. Each type of bird represents a different explosive strength, either 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5 pounds of TNT equivalent. Can you determine which bird packs what punch and balance the final scale for them?

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue H, open emergency envelope 17, which will direct you to Clue H.

This is emergency solution 17, which will lead you to Clue H.

Hunters who aren't mathematically inclined may feel like pigs being bombarded by Angry Birds with this clue, but those Hunters up to the Angry Bird challenge will find that a bit of substitution will put these birds in their place. After trial and error, you find that the female bird represents 1 pound, the yellow canary represents 2 pounds, the red cardinal represents 3 pounds, the toucan represents 4 pounds and the black time bomb represents 5 pounds. Thus, 4 pounds of TNT equivalent are required to balance the final scale.

Because you only find single birds within circles on the map, you can confidently fly over to circle Toucan.

A Bingo board in the middle of the desert – where are the crazies with their wacky bingo markers? When you mark (push) all of the numbers called out during checkout, you find that you get a Bingo and two things happen: 9.4605284×10^{15} meters lights up and a loud buzzer goes off. From your HWOW research, you will remember that 9.4605284×10^{15} meters is a light year. While recovering from the fright caused by the buzzer, you realize you can't find a light year on the map. However, once you realize that the buzzer may serve a purpose, you realize that Buzz and Lightyear may go together, indicating that the solution is our Toy Story friend, Buzz Lightyear. Bingo! Working Visual with bull's-eye targets, a “no sharks” sticker, and an LED display. Shining a laser at the targets will illuminate the letters S, A, U, C, and E.

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue J, open emergency envelope 9 , which will direct you to Clue J.

This is emergency solution 9 , which will lead you to Clue J .

The Laser Radiation warning should advise you that you’ll need your laser pointer (mentioned on the HWOW) for this clue. Sure enough, shining the laser onto the targets makes letters illuminate. From left to right, the targets illuminate S, A, U, C, and E, or “SAUCE.” The “No Sharks” and laser should remind you of the HWOW MuleTube clip from the Austin Powers movie, where Dr. Evil is lamenting their inability to get sharks with “freakin’ laser beams.” What they got in place of sharks were Sea Bass, and in the Brown Bag is a recipe for Grilled Sea Bass with Thai Sauce. Since the SAUCE is Thai, you’ll need to head over to:

Working Visual with a table top that has a sharpened dowel labeled “You are here” and three clear disks. Each disk has a “North” marker, a diameter marker, a center hole which fits nicely over the dowel, and another hole near the edge.

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue K, open emergency envelope 22, which will direct you to Clue K.

This is emergency solution 22, which will lead you to ClueK.

We have a large table with a dowel (labeled “You are here”), and 3 disks. Poking the dowel through your map lined up with your current position, and then placing the discs on the dowel, one will notice the disk cutouts align with map circles. If all three of the disks are used, the circles reveal P, I, and G. Now you might be tempted to head for Circle Pig, but that would take you to a Jackass. Instead, utilize the HWOW to select the “Tru-ly” proper diameter of 14.2 (which is on the TruEyes contact in the Brown Bag). Using just the disk labeled 14.2, circle G is revealed. So visualize your way over to:

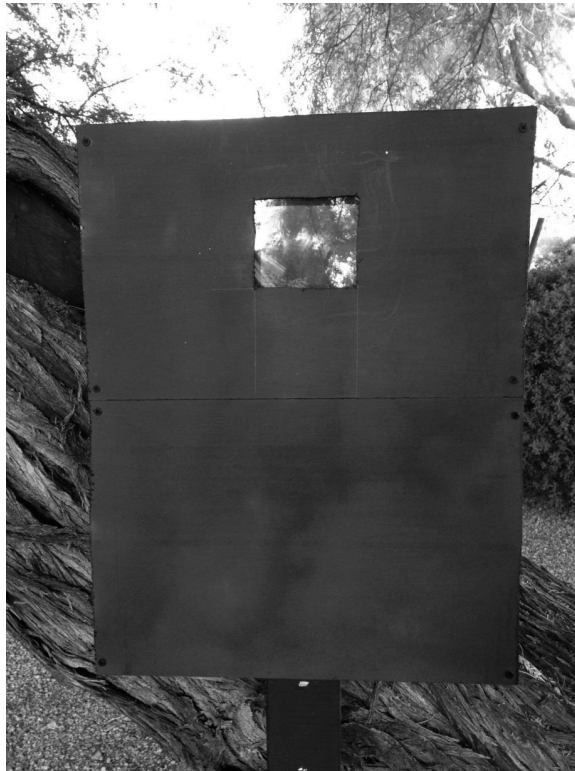

is located in Map Grid [J, 7]. From the intersection of Lone Mountain Road and Cave Creek Road, proceed North on Cave Creek road 1.0 miles to Rancho Paloma Drive. After racing out to a clue in the middle of the desert, many Hunters would be hoping to slow down for a bit. However, after seeing words scrolling rapidly on a screen, you realize that you are going to have to read awfully fast to understand the message. It may take a few times through, but you eventually are able to read the message to say “Read Fast, Decipher Code. To Solve Clue Drive Towards Circle Letters DEF. Drive Slowly. Carefully Buckle Seat Belt.” Sounds easy – head to circle DEF, right? Well, as the HWOW pointed out, “All Hunters can read fast and find jackasses, but only successful Hunters can focus on black.” Thus, as a successful Hunter you have realized that you must ignore the letters in other colors and only read the black letters. After spending some additional time reading the scrolling words, you are able to read the black letters only and get “G-O-T-O-C-I-R-C-L-E-R-O-C-K-E-T.”

The team's music aficionado will quickly recognize Motown legend and former Commodore, Lionel Ritchie, in all 64 collage pictures. Hunters that did their HWOW research and followed the MuleTube link may recall another Commodore...the Commodore 64 home computer. It's hard to believe that the Commodore 64 was discontinued over 20 years ago. Hunters-of-a-certain-age may remember the logo of the best-selling home computer model of all time; observant Hunters may have even glimpsed the Commodore 64 logo at the end of the MuleTube commercial. Remember "Nobody beats the Commodore!"

Just as the Hunt is taking its toll on the weary Hunter, this clue includes the beginnings of various motivational (or are they?) proverbs. By looking in the Brown Bag, the Hunter will find a listing of the endings of these sentences. By matching up the correct sentence endings, the now invigorated Hunter should see that the first letter of each sentence ending spells out "Winter is Coming." From the HWOW clue, "A Song of Fire and Ice –Where even the best motto, an intimidating sigil and a vast army can't save you," the wise Hunter should know that "Winter is Coming" is the motto for the House Stark from Game of Thrones and proceed to

Here we have poems with missing words. A seasoned parental Hunter would immediately recognize these as common nursery rhymes, and can quickly and easily recite each one, filling in the missing words hand, rocks, the, cradle, is, that, rules, world. Combined with the number in the space, which indicates the quantity of times you need to use the word, you get hand, hand, rocks, the, the, the, the, cradle, is, that, that, rules, world. A word scramble! Unscrambled, the phrase gives you "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world!" A common phrase to be sure, but an astute Hunter would remember the picture and hyperlink on the HWOW of the famous poet William Ross Wallace who penned this most famous poem.

Hunters will find a picture of a Cactus Wren asking how much it would cost to move into a new house 15 feet in the air. Above the Cactus Wren are two birdhouses placed at 10 and 15 feet in the air.

This is emergency solution 11, which will lead you to Clue S.

A Cactus Wren wants to know how much it will cost to move into a house 15 feet into the air. The first thing a Hunter would do is look up and realize there are bird houses above the wren. Experienced Hunters bring a 10 foot pole on the Hunt and are easily able to estimate that the higher house must be 15 feet in the air. Now, how does one determine the cost of this bird house? By using the "camera holder" purchased at checkout and securely fastening a video camera / cell phone to the end of the ten foot pole using the rubber bands provided, one can get a close-up view of the birdhouse. After reviewing the video taken in the air, the Hunt team will see that the price tag on the 15-foot-high birdhouse reads $15.95. However, circle $15.95 will simply earn you another opportunity to take a picture – this time with a jackass. By taking 10% off the price, as indicated on the HWOW, the final price is $14.36. So fly on over to:

Working visual with a picture of Wonder Bread and an NBC microphone saying “Hello!”, six color buttons (black, brown, purple, red, white, and yellow), and a 2 digit LED display.

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue T, open emergency envelope 26, which will direct you to Clue T.

This is emergency solution 26, which will lead you to Clue T.

Now what you hear is not a test...we're gonna try to move your feet.

It seems as if the Wonder bread is greeting you here, but generally you don't see that kind of behavior in a baked good. No, it's actually the microphone (a Wonder mike, you might say), that is saying hello. That phrase should have reminded you of Brian Williams (an NBC employee) “performing” Rapper’s Delight on the HWOV link to MuleTube. In it, he raps, “Now I am Wonder Mike, and I’m here to say hello, to the black, to the white, the red and the brown, the purple and yellow.” Pressing the buttons in that order will make the number 79 (the year Rapper’s Delight was released) appear in the window.

Let's rock, you don't stop, rock the rhythm that'll make your body rock to:

Rode - Can Snag - Cold
Plight - Lam
Gaze - Freed
Rid - Tripe
East - Up
West - Oak Grove - Rout

If you are unable to solve this clue, or to find Clue U, open emergency envelope 3 , which will direct you to ClueU.

This is emergency solution 3 , which will lead you to Clue U.

From the HWOW hint, Boast – Hip / Boat - Ship, one should determine that if you switch one letter, the pair of words become synonyms.

Rode - Can	Rod - Cane	E
Snag - Cold	Nag - Scold	S
Plight - Lam	Light - Lamp	P
Gaze - Freed	Graze - Feed	R
Rid - Tripe	Ride - Trip	E
East - Up	Eat - Sup	S
West - Oak	Wet - Soak	S
Grove - Rout	Groove - Rut	O

So, the group of words you see here, are not quite related. However, if you consider the letter that you have to move to make the word pairs homonyms, the letters spell out ESPRESSO. Ahhh, our favorite beverage. So use that caffeine to your advantage, and buzz on over:

What we have here are 3 sizes of drinking glasses, and you'll see that the glasses get smaller and higher, similar to superscripting. There are 10 of the large size, 10 of the medium size, and 2 of the small size, so it represents 10^{10^2} , or 10^{100} , which is also known as a Googol. So we have Googol (or Google) Glass(es). The HWOW included a link to a support site page for Google Glass describing how to get directions, which is exactly what the Hunter needs right now. Speaking the key phrase “Ok Glass, get directions to...” into the microphone will cause the directions to the next clue site to be displayed. So navigate on over:

Engineers delight – no more celebrities or sports to frustrate you, just simple logic here. And for the non-math and science majors, use the rote memory skills learned in your Liberal Arts college to remember the HWOW question “what type of logic does it take to get through the gates?” that prompted you to print off a list of logic gates.

As the organizational freak in your van has certainly brought to your attention, there is a piece of paper with a vertical strip of 1s and 0s in your Brown Bag with the same number of binary digits as there are binary input switches on this working visual. Sounds simple – set the input switches to the given input. Wait... you expected something to happen with one simple step? Nope, it looks like you now have to figure out the output for each logic gate and fill in the next row of inputs and then do the same for the third row of inputs. Once you have correctly set all the switches in the first column (011011001010) and gotten your team to hold the switches for columns 2 and 3 (010110, 101), the circle at the right will light up and reveal the solution, so figure out how to get over to:

Man's Best Friend has been in many popular films and television shows. If the clever couch potato Hunter solves the crossword, the squares at the intersections form a series of 9 letters which (when rearranged) spell F-A-M-I-L-Y G-U-Y. Knowing that the puzzle's theme is famous dogs, the Hunter may remember that this was an unfortunate and sad year for Family Guys' canine, Brian Griffin, who recently met his controversial and untimely end. So, head on over to:

We've got Mr. Miyagi and the Karate Kid discussing the waxing of the car, but that's not the important part. What IS important is that the baboon (excuse me, the gibbon) is waxing the car. So it's a "Waxing Gibbon." This (and the "moon you" reference) should remind you of the HOW website showing the phases of the moon; one phase being the "Waxing Gibbous". In the Brown Bag is a calendar of November 2014 which shows the moon phases for the month. The waxing gibbous phase is shown on the 2nd, so once the baboon (excuse me; the gibbon) has finished his "Wax-On, Wax-Off" of your car, drive on over to:

What have we here? Some kind of colorful jumble or cipher or . . . perhaps the "blurred lines" the HWOW foretold? Prepared Hunters should have remembered the rule and purchased the red translucent ruler at checkout (or brought their own red transparency) to help them not see the red text. When viewed through the red ruler, the hidden blue text of each line is revealed: "I could care less," Don't Be a MORAN!, "Every dog has it's day," WORD5 U51N6 NUMB3R5, and "to who." Observant Hunters will recognize these malapropisms and grammatical missteps as Word Crimes. Hey, hey, hey . . . from Blurred Lines to Word Crimes, just like the brilliant song parody by that zany master of musical mayhem, "Weird Al" Yankovic!!! So grab your kazoo and slide whistle and bop on over to at the intersection of Accordion Blvd and Mandatory Fun Drive.

Beginning in 1970, all committee members with less than three years of respite from committee service and all committee members with six years of committee service are offered the opportunity to declare their cars Professional. This declaration must be made upon application for tickets to the Hunt. In 1981, the 1970 resolution was amended to limit those teams wishing to declare themselves Professional to those having three or more qualifying members under the 1970 resolution.

The Treasure Hunt Committee employs the following interpretations of these resolutions.

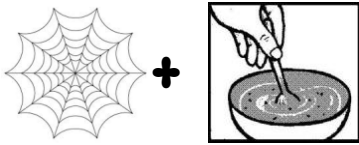

Professional teams agree not to compete against amateur teams in the Hunt. First, second, and third place prizes will be awarded to the three amateur teams with the lowest times per clue. If a professional team has the lowest time per clue for the hunt, the team will be added to the `Pro Button Winners` section of the Hall of Fame. Those team members whose status qualified the team for professional competition will be awarded Pro Buttons to be affixed to their previously awarded red hats. All Pro teams having times per clue better than the third place winners will be identified for their commendable performances, while those Pro teams that placed closer to the other end of the pack will also receive some `special` recognition.

Teams that are eligible to declare themselves Professional for the Hunt yet do not do so, for whatever reason, will compete as amateur teams and be eligible for the first, second and third place prizes.
